

The Da'luk

In Loving Memory of Alan Stephenson Jr.

Alan Stephenson Jr. passed away unexpected on December 23, 2017. Alan was known as AJ to many and leaves behind his children Alan III, Daniel, Marissa Stephenson. AJ held a special place for Armando and Esmeralda who he considered his children. AJ had a big heart and always helped others when in need. You could always find him working at an Elders house or lending a hand to his friends. He lived life to the fullest and was always cracking jokes and snacking on sweets. AJ always made friends where ever he went and valued everyone he met.. AJ will be missed by many and a void that will never be filled but know we will forever hold you close to our hearts.

Wishing you a Healthy and Happy New Year!

I hope your holidays were great and that your 2018 New Year will be amazing and fill with nothing but success and positivity. Our staff have been working real hard this past year on Tribal projects for each department. We are going into this new year with even more new projects and success stories.

I would also like to take this time to thank our front desk staff led by Fawn Lopez for getting out our monthly newsletter and information out to our citizenship. So that you the tribal citizens are kept informed on all projects, events, committee meetings, council meetings, and important notices of what is going on with the tribe.

Tsek Houdaqh is planning quite a few events with the youth and will be in collaboration with all the departments of the tribe. They are always seeking parent volunteers to help out with the club, bake sales, jewelry sales, Indian taco sales, and so on. Please come out and help support the youth program. Not just in Tsek Houdaqh our other departments such as Ga'muluk Hagu'n, Shawir Darrudaluduk, and Gou'wil Da Lalouluwuk are always looking for volunteers to help in their programs as well. So always check your mail for your monthly newsletter for all the great exciting things happening.

Also, do not forget to attend our annual meeting on April 7, 2018 at 10 am located at the Tribal Office 1000 Wiyot Dr. Loleta CA. We also encourage everyone to attend our monthly business council meetings held on the second and last Monday of month starting at 4pm and to participate in other various committees.

In other news the tribe is still focusing on economic development and growth. We are looking into future projects as well as our gaming compact with the State of California.

Please contact our office if you have any ideas or questions or would like to participate in upcoming events.

Another reminder is if you have moved and not mailed in your change of address please do so, this will make it easier for the office staff to get out new information to you that involves the tribe.

Submitted By: Ted Hernandez

Ha'wa'lou Everyone

We would like to inform the community that Tsek Houdagh has merged under the Cultural Department as of December 2017. I would like to welcome the staff of that department to Lhatsik Houmoulu'l. They are Donna Wilson as the Youth Program Manager and Kathy Spott the youth assistant and our JOM tutor. Kathy will have her days posted when she will be there for tutoring our youth while they are at the Tsek Houdagh. We also have Hazel James who is transferring over as the new cultural assistant for this department. These are some of the job duties that she will be assisting me with the day to day operations, youth activities, cultural activities, and evaluating the new cannabis permits that have been coming in daily and processing them. These two departments will be focusing on the growth of our Wiyot Tribe culture, traditions, and education.

Tsek Houdagh is working on its new calendar for projects for the new year's activities for the youth. I recommend that all our youth should attend or just come check it out. I would also like to announce that Tribal Council has approved to put in a computer lab for the kids to be able to use for their homework and club activities. The Lhatsik Houmoulu'l is always focused on our ceremonies, traditions, and bringing our ancestor's home from the museums that hold them.

We are still looking for tribal elders or the younger generation to come out and share their traditional knowledge, classes, and stories with other citizens. It is so important to share our traditional knowledge with all our citizens so that it will never be lost. Especially now that our younger generation wants to learn more about our stories and traditions. We will be posting events on our Facebook pages, tribe's web site, and flyers on what is going on in these two department for the upcoming months.

These departments are still working on setting up the Cultural Committees and Parent Committees if you are interested in sitting on the committees please contact Ted Hernandez, Hazel James, and Donna Wilson at the tribal office. We can put down your name and set up these committees. To discuss the cultural importance and the needs of the community. The cultural department will continue to post the old stories and photos that we have in our collection in each month newsletter. So, if you have family stories and or photos that you would like to share we would be happy to put in our newsletter.

Gatswokwire and the Origin of Salmon

Gatswokwire (culture-hero-trickster) took seeds of the madroña that look like salmon eggs. There were no fish in the world. Gudatrigakwitl ("Above-old-man" or creator) had not let them out. He wanted to keep them a little longer. Gatswokwire, carrying the dry seeds, came to where the fish were kept. There he took them out. Then the one that was keeping the fish thought: "Oh, they are already out. They are about the world." The fish were kept in a hollow rock, all kinds of them. Gudatrigakwitl had made them. Gatswokwire came there because he wanted the fish to be all over the world. Gudatrigakwitl thought: "Well, let it be. Let him make them be all over the world." Then it was foggy and no one saw how the fish went out. Then the sun shone again. Gatswokwire went on and came to a place and saw fish. He came to another place and saw many fish there too. Some of the people had spears, some had set nets, some dip nets. Then he was glad. But Gudatrigakwitl had done it. Some say that the person who kept the fish was a woman, some say that it was a man.

These stories were told to A.L. Kroeber by Wiyot consultants early in the 1900s.

Resolve to Quit

The New Year is rapidly approaching. Many people make resolutions at this time, stopping smoking being one of the most popular ones. Smoking is the leading cause of preventable disease and death in the United States, and quitting now can cut your risk and leave you feeling stronger and healthier. Some things to help on your efforts to kick the habit include:

- Picking a quit date. Starting the new year smoke free is a great idea.
- Letting loved ones know you're quitting so they can support you.
- Listing your reasons to quit smoking.
- Figuring out what triggers make you want to smoke so you can avoid them, especially during the early days.
- Having places you can turn to for help right away, including the free resources listed below.

Quitting smoking is not easy, but you can do it. For free telephone counseling, self-help materials, and online help to help you quit smoking call the California Quit Line at 1-800-NO-BUTTS (1-800-662-8887) or go to www.nobutts.org/. The American Cancer Society also has a number of resources to help support your decision to stop using commercial tobacco, just go to <https://www.cancer.org/>. United Indian Health Services offers classes based on the Second Wind curriculum to help you quit your habit. For more information call in Humboldt County Stone Wallace or Elizabeth Jackson at (707) 825-5070 and in Del Norte County call Trudy Adams at (707) 464-5726.

People who stop smoking greatly reduce their risk for disease and early death. Although the health benefits are greater for people who stop at earlier ages, there are benefits at any age. You are never too old to quit.

*United Indian Health Services is funded by the California Tobacco Control Program for the NATIVE Tobacco Project.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA INDIAN DEVELOPMENT COUNCIL, INC.
SERVING THE AMERICAN INDIAN PEOPLE OF CALIFORNIA SINCE 1976

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Toys for Tots Literacy Program
Eureka, CA – December 10, 2017

The UPS Store® network, the Northern California Indian Development Council, and the Marine Toys for Tots Foundation have teamed up to provide books to lower income children in communities with Native American populations.

In the next few days just under 9,500 books will be delivered to schools in Humboldt, Del Norte and Mendocino Counties.

Launched in March 2008, the Toys for Tots Literacy Program offers the nation's most economically disadvantaged children the ability to compete academically and to succeed in life by providing them direct access to books and educational resources that enhance their ability to read and to communicate effectively.

One hundred percent of all proceeds go to support local children and literacy programs. Every dollar helps put a book into the hands of a local child in need!

The UPS Store, Inc. and its network of more than 4,600 The UPS Store locations across the U.S. are the exclusive sponsors of the Toys for Tots Literacy Program.

The Northern California Indian Development Council (NCIDC), Inc. is a private nonprofit corporation that annually provides services to 14,000 to 15,000 Native American clients statewide. NCIDC was established in 1976 to research, develop and administer social and economic development programs designed to meet the needs of Indian and Native American Communities including education and literacy. The NCIDC is assisting this project in the distribution of these books to local schools and their children.

Why we need your help. According to the National Center for Children in Poverty, over 16 million children live in poverty. Through the gift of a book, we can provide these children with the tools they need to help break the cycle of poverty, one child at a time. According to Francie Alexander, Chief Academic Officer at Scholastic, "Literacy remains at the core of academic achievement for all children, and it is critical that we work together to help every child have access and exposure to books at home and in their communities. By giving the gift of reading to a child in your life or a child in need, you are not only opening up a world of opportunity for them, but you are giving them a lifetime of joy."

MOU ID: Not on File

Wiyot Tribe, California
Attn: Chairperson TED HERNANDEZ
1000 Wiyot Drive
Loleta, CA 95551

Dear Chairperson TED HERNANDEZ:

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) would like to extend an invitation to participate in our Native American Direct Loan (NADL) Program.

The NADL is a loan program, enacted by Public Law 102-547; to help eligible Native American Veterans obtain home loan financing to purchase, construct or improve homes on Federal Trust Land or to refinance a prior NADL to reduce the interest rate.

Why Use the NADL Program?

- The lender is the Department of Veterans Affairs.
- No down payment
- Easy to qualify
- No Private Mortgage Insurance cost
- The VA offers a low fixed-rate of 4.0% interest rate, 30-year mortgage
- Maximum loan limits of up to $424,100 in most areas
- This re-usable benefit gives Native American Veteran's the opportunity of home ownership and frees up tribal funding to be used in other areas.

A Veteran's tribe or other appropriate tribal organization must sign a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with VA and adopt appropriate ordinances and procedures. The MOU spells out the conditions under which the program will operate on its trust lands. A sample MOU is available on our website at <http://www.benefits.va.gov/home loans/nadl.asp>.

If you have questions or concerns regarding the MOU on record, please feel free to contact our office at 1-877-827-3702. We look forward to working with you and your tribal organization to bring the dream of home ownership into a reality..

Sincerely,

KATHERINE BARAJAZ

Western Lily Habitat Restoration Project

The Wiyot Natural Resource Department (WRND) was awarded a little over 30K from the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) Endangered Species Program to work toward restoring portions of the Table Bluff Reservation (TBR) wetland as habitat for the federally endangered western lily (Lilium occidentale). Along with assessing the suitability of the habitat, through measuring soil moisture content and temperature, the project also seeks to restore the lily's associated botanical community and propagate the lily for future out-planting on TBR.

With the onset of fall rains, WRND botanist, Adam Canter, deployed eight micro-stations, which began sampling soil moisture and temperature on December 1st. Adam received assistance from Arcata U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service botanist, Clint Pogue, and retired lily expert, Dave Imper. These probes will allow the WRND to look at the wetland's saturation and dry-down curves as the season progresses, to ensure that soil moisture availability remains adequate for the lily in the critical months of June and July. Our data will be compared with data from known optimum lily sites, which occur at the Table Bluff Ecological Reserve, only a mile west of TBR, by Ocean Ranch.

The WRND has also begun planting native species associated with western lily habitat within the TBR wetland, in areas invaded by non-native poison hemlock (Conium maculatum), radish (Raphanus sativus), and mustard (Brassica rapa). Planting native shrubs and trees within weed infested areas is a method used to exclude weeds through shading and crowding. This allows restoration to eventually become passive, once natives are established. The WRND will experiment with different methods within the plantings, including using sheet-mulching and weed mat. Planting in the fall and winter seeks to take the most advantage of our rainy season, giving the plants the most natural opportunity for establishment. This project works in concert with the Tribe's EPA CWA 319 program, which seeks to restore wetland integrity.

Species selected for plantings are culturally significant and also associated with hyper-maritime lily sites and include; Pacific reed grass (Calamagrostis nutkaensis), Oregon crab-apple (Malus fusca), wax myrtle (Murraya californica), hazelnut (Corylus cornuta ssp. californica), silk tassel (Garrya elliptica), and coast black currant (Ribes divaricatum).

The WRND was very grateful for the assistance with planting and the teamwork provided by Andy Ashley and James Paguia from the Wiyot Public Works Department! We look forward to watching this exciting restoration project unfold as we begin to see our native Wiyot habitats return to the TBR landscape.

WRND receives assistance from Public Works Dept. planting natives in wetland.
